Unnumbered lists

- I like to move among painters, mathematicians, psychologists, people who can tell me something.
– George Woodcock
- Mathematics is the art of giving the same name to different things.
– Henri Poincaré
- Mathematics consists in proving the most obvious thing in the least obvious way.
– George Polya
- Mathematics is a hard thing to love. It has the unfortunate habit, like a rude dog, of turning its most unfavourable side towards you when you first make contact with it.
– David Whiteland
